Q&A for Boston 2026 Prospective Dealers

1. Q: When is the show?

A: Saturday, May 23, 2026 to Saturday, May 30, 2026. Note that Memorial Day will be on Monday, May 25, 2026.

2. Q: Where will the show be held?

A: At the Boston Convention & Exhibition Center (BCEC), in Halls A and B. Together these halls total 352,000 sq ft (NY16 was about 290,000 sq ft). The BCEC is located in the Seaport District in Boston.

3. Q: Where is the dealer bourse located on the show floor?

A: In the center front section of the show floor. Right where the escalators will deposit the entering attendees.

4. Q: What are the arrangements for moving material between the convention center docks and the dealer booths?

A: The show decorator will provide personnel to move all material. This is included in the cost of the booth.

5. Q: Can I move my own material myself?

A: Yes, but only from privately owned vehicles of less than 24 feet. And only by regular dealer personnel.

6. Q: If I can't do a whole show (8 days), can I still participate?

A: Yes. A small section of the dealer bourse will consist of 10'x10' pipe & drape booths, offered on a half show basis (4 days).

7. Q: What is the cost of dealer booths?

A: A wide variety of booths and configurations are available. Prices range from $1,400 to $59,000. Booth holders will be able to contract with the show decorator to customize their booths at their own expense.

8. Q: Who is the show decorator?

A: Heritage.

9. Q: Can I easily drive to the show?

A: Yes. Take the Mass Pike (I-90) to Exit 135. When you emerge from the exit you can see the convention center. The drive from the exit to the convention center is less than a mile.

10. Q: Is there parking at the show?

A: Yes. The convention center has its own 1,340 space self-parking lot. Also 600 spaces of valet parking.

11. Q: How far away is the airport?

A: Fifteen minutes away by the MBTA's Silver Line. The inbound trip from Logan Airport is free.

12. Q: How far away is the train?

A: Boston's South Station serves all rail links south of Boston. This includes the high-speed Amtrak Accela and Northeast Regional services. South Station is on the same street as the convention center (Summer Street). It is 7/10th of a mile away and a 13-minute walk. A 4-minute MBTA Silver Line ride can also be taken for $2.40.

13. Q: What hotel space has been arranged?

A: The organizers have hired the housing management company onPeak to negotiate hotel contracts and manage hotel reservations. They are contracting for space at 8 hotels. These include two large hotels, the Westin Seaport District (the HQ Show Hotel) and the Omni Boston Seaport, that are physically connected to the convention center. Other contracted hotels offer a variety of amenities including suites, in-room kitchens, and free breakfasts. All hotels are in the Seaport District and are within walking distance of the convention center.

14. Q: Will there be assistance in dealing with US Customs?

A: The organizers recognize the need to provide assistance to non-US dealers. Toward that end we will be hiring a customs agent to help dealers negotiate the efficient movement of their material to the show.

15. Q: How do I reserve a dealer booth?

A: Download the dealer bourse application, complete it, and return it with your deposit to the show. Please contact Sandeep Jaiswal, Sandeep.Jaiswal@Boston2026.org, for details about international payments.

16. Q: When is booth selection? Is my deposit refundable?

A: Booth selection starts in January 2023. Please note that booth selection will be in the order of receipt of completed application forms with deposit. Deposits are refundable until May 2024.
